| 1. Opportunity: Being physically present around typically developing peers on a regular basis with routine and spontaneous occasions to interact | o Assign all students to general education classes with needed supports.
| Issues? Yes No | o Address architectural and physical barriers to inclusion (e.g., no ramps, elevators, or curb cuts).
| List priority issues: | o Increase time in general education classes.
| Select indicators: | o Increase time in other locations in the school.
| o Percentage of school day spent in inclusive class(es) | o Create during- and after-school social interaction options through friendship groups and peer support clubs.
| o Number of integrated school and community settings in which the student participates | o Fade one-to-one time with adults.
| o Number of peers with whom the student has regular interactions during a day or week | o Add in peers and increase small-group instruction.
| o Percentage of in-class time (or number of routines/activities) spent participating with peers | o Integrate student seating in class, at lunch, and during in-school activities.
| 2. Atmosphere: Prevailing staff and student attitudes toward human differences and talents and related values people hold about social relationships, peer support, a competitive versus a cooperative focus, student involvement in the resolution of social concerns, regard for everyone's unique talents, and so forth | o Have staff examine values toward ability, disability, and learning.
| Issues? Yes No | o Involve staff, parents, and students in creating a school mission statement.
| List priority issues: | o Organize ability- and disability-awareness activities.
| Select indicators: | o Organize service activities.
| o Pre/post survey of knowledge of and attitudes regarding disabilities | o Hold teacher in-service session on cooperative learning and support for its use in classrooms.
| o Number/percentage of inclusive extracurricular activities | o Explore alternatives to ability grouping and competitive activities.
| o Number/percentage of classrooms with scheduled time for social skills instruction | o Hold staff training on social skills and relationships and their facilitation.
| o Number/percentage of classrooms with scheduled, structured cooperative learning groups | o Adopt and use a social skills curriculum.
| | o Train staff and students in collaborative teaming and problem solving.
| | o Offer student forums on social concerns such as teasing and ridicule; engage students in problem-solving school solutions.
| | o Increase the number and range of extracurricular opportunities for students to develop their unique talents.

3. Social support and motivation: Having the needed supports and encouragement from adults and peers to interact socially and build relationships

Issues?  Yes  No

List priority issues:

Select indicators:
- Periodic assessment of student's peer-initiated versus adult-initiated interactions
- Number of peer support group or peer problem-solving meetings held
- Number of people in each circle of the student's Circles of Friends
- Number of peers who list the student in their Circles of Friends

Select indicators:
- Explore types of adult facilitation that can encourage appropriate social interactions (e.g., modeling, backing off).
- Explore types of peer support (e.g., peer groups using problem solving and goal setting, friendship groups, natural relationships strategies).
- Adjust and fade adult facilitation and supports.
- Identify interaction problems (e.g., aggression, excess teasing, isolation); plan and use teaching and peer supports to improve student behavior.
- Identify and resolve barriers to social interaction (e.g., schedules, student hygiene, peer network values).
- Improve communication rates by addressing student motivation, communication system, or social skill performance.
- Involve students; examine the social contexts for interest, variety, age/ability match, cooperative features, participation, and needed modifications.
- Use or improve peer networks.

4. Academic achievement: Possessing needed academic skills (e.g., in such areas as reading, writing, math, science, social studies, vocational and community training) and the confidence that comes from having and using these skills

List priority issues:

Select indicators:
- Progress data on relevant IEP goals
- Number of peer tutoring sessions held
- Number of participatory responses from a student during a particular type of instructional activity (e.g., cooperative learning group for science, small-group reading lesson)

Select indicators:
- Add what is needed to enable students to succeed in learning needed skills (e.g., student choice and involvement in IEP and program, incentives for learning, accommodations, environmental changes, modifications in schoolwork that are only as special as necessary).
- Make use of reciprocal peer tutoring and cross-age tutoring.
- Add cooperative learning methods to science, math, social studies, and literature lessons.

5. Social competence and interaction skills: Being able to initiate interactions with peers, respond to peers’ initiations, and elaborate on the initiations or responses of peers at a typical rate

Issues? Yes No
